

17.0 QABA Policy and Procedure: Trademarks, Logos, and Copyright

The purpose of this policy and procedure is to offer a guidance on the logos, service marks, certification marks and trademarks which are owned by Innovative Learning LLC. The content of the QABA® website is subject to U.S and international copyright, trademark, and intellectual property laws. Unauthorized reproduction, copying or transmission in any medium is strictly prohibited.

The logos, service marks, certification marks and trademarks Qualified Applied Behavior Analysis Credentialing Board®, the QABA®, Qualified Autism Services Practitioner®, the QASP®, the Applied Behavior Analysis Technician®, and the ABAT® are owned by Innovative Learning LLC and the Qualified Applied Behavior Analysis Credentialing Board®. Unauthorized use, misrepresentation or references to these marks, the QABA Credentialing programs and/or QABA standards is strictly prohibited. Misrepresentation, false characterization or any attempted fabrication of certification or registration status, Course approval or any other QABA® offering will be subject to appropriate action, including, but not limited to (a) sanction by Innovative Learning LLC and the QABA®; (b) cease and desist action; (c) legal remedies, including, but not limited to, court costs and attorney's fees.

If you would like to use copyrighted material owned by the QABA® which goes beyond "fair use," you must obtain written permission from Innovative Learning LLC and the QABA®.

More information on the fair use can be found here:

<https://www.copyright.gov/fair-use/>